SAVANNAH

AND ITS SURROUNDINGS.

Of course everyone who has any knowledge of history knows that Savannah began with the settlement of Georgia in 1733 by Gen. James Oglethorpe, who landed on Yamacraw Bluff and founded the youngest of the original thirteen colonies—Georgia. It is not our purpose in this sketch to follow its history through its successful growth from a population of a few hundred people to that of over 62,000 souls. We simply desire to call attention to some of its few advantages, that the thrifty and industrious may know where they might make a home, and also to some of its beautiful surroundings.

Savannah has quite a number of enterprises that afford employment to many working people. Notably among these are several iron works, two breweries, the Central, Charleston & Savannah, Savannah, Florida & Western Railways, together with their shops, as well as the Florida Central & Peninsular and Savannah, Americus & Montgomery roads. There are also several oil mills, guano factories and sash, blind and door factories, printing offices, newspapers, lumber mills, and quite a number of other establishments.

The city covers over 4,000 acres, and has a valuation of over $40,000,000, and a commerce of $160,000,000. It has over 100 miles of streets, about 400 acres in public parks, including Forsyth and one of about 300 acres, recently donated by the county, and known as Estill Park, between fifteen and twenty miles of street car lines and over five miles of wharves. Geographically it is at the head of ship navigation on the Savannah river, eighteen miles from the ocean, on a plateau fifty feet above the level of the sea. Bay street is the great commercial centre, but there are others, notably Broughton and Congress streets, upon which an immense amount of retail trading is done. Its custom house, hotels and other public buildings are mentioned in another place. Bull street is its great promenade and extends from the Bay to the Park and beyond. Its public market is quite an interesting sight, especially on Saturday afternoon, and an hour or two spent there is never forgotten. Its colored hucksters, with the quaint calling of their wares, are a notable feature of the town. It has quite a number of monuments to public men—among them the Greene, the Pulaski, Sergeant Jasper and W. W. Gordon. Besides these there is a monument to the Confederate dead in the Park extension, which was erected under the auspices of the Ladies Memorial Association. Its cemeteries are filled with the tombs of the illustrious men of other times, and that on South Broad street contains those of many of ante-revolutionary and revolutionary times. No other American city has such a wealth of foliage, such charming seclusion and such delightful and pleasant resorts in its numerous parks.

Savannah abounds in beautiful out-of-town resorts, famous for their situation, scenery and historic interest. They are Bonaventure, Isle of Hope, Warsaw Beach, Greenwich Park, Tybee, Montgomery, Beaulieu, White Bluff, Thunderbolt, and other points of interest, and the visitor to the city will find plenty of opportunity and places to spend a pleasant week in this old-time but progressive city.

THE ANTIMIGRAINE Co.

Gentlemen—For over twenty years my wife has been a martyr to Sick Headaches, and, notwithstanding she has been treated for them by our most eminent physicians here, as well as those in the city of Charleston, she received no benefit until she recently tried "Antimigraine," which relieved her in twenty minutes. Her attacks were the severest I ever saw, often prostrating her for days. "Antimigraine" is all you claim for it. Please regard me as one of its strongest advocates.

Respectfully,
